Alaska Smart Communities Forum

Wednesday August 9, 2017, 8:00am – 1pm

BP Energy Center, 900 E Benson Blvd, Anchorage, Alaska

Continental Breakfast and Lunch provided by MatSu Borough

The Alaska Smart Communities Forum is a program for Alaska public and private organizations to learn how we are using, sharing, and providing information that can benefit more citizens in more ways. Primary focus areas include: Data (identify sources and how to use, share and collect among agencies), Services (integrating, analyzing and visualizing data of interest), Education (what other cities and organizations are doing), and Partnerships (sharing resources, data, investments).

Agenda

8:00am   Coffee and Continental Breakfast

8:30am   Introductions & Progress Report
- Introductions – Eric Wyatt, IT Director, MatSu
- Progress on Data, Apps, and Partnerships – Doug Miller
    - Providing relevant content?
    - Being more efficient, effective?
    - Sharing data and apps?

9:00am   Open Data, Municipality of Anchorage – Brendan Babb, Chief Innovation Officer
- Open Data Demo, Plans, and Governance
- Providing "…transparency and improving engagement and access to the Municipality"

9:45am   Break

10:00am   Enterprise GIS Program, City of Portland – Matthew Fried, Corporate GIS Manager
- Provide services for staff and citizens of Portland.
- Includes data hub with 1000 datasets and serves data via portlandmaps.com, web services and to desktops.
- Works with city bureaus to find innovative spatial data solutions to help customers understand their business in new ways.

10:45am   GIS Program, Municipality of Anchorage – Tina Miller, Geographic Information Officer
- Overview of Municipal GIS Program

11:30am   Lunch Discussion – Alaska "Portal of Portals" – Anne Johnson, GIO, State of Alaska; Eric Wyatt, IT Director, MatSu; Matt Rykaczewski, GIS Programmer/Analyst, MatSu
- Progress on Alaska "portal of portals" via the Geospatial Technical Working Group
- What this means for local GIS and Open Data platforms

12:30pm   Adjourn